Dear colleagues,

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to welcome you to this symposium on advances in breast surgery. The symposium will focus on state-of-the-art breast reduction and reconstructive breast surgery. Primary and secondary breast procedures, reduced scar approaches, new developments in reconstruction, and how to avoid problems and optimize outcomes will be presented by a distinguished international faculty.

Live surgery will be performed at the Frauenklinik Dr. Geisenhofer and broadcasted to the auditorium in The Westin Grand Arabellapark Hotel Munich. This life broadcast of different operative procedures allows symposium participants to observe and continuously interact with the surgeons conducting the breast operations.

Over the years the results of reconstructive breast surgery have been improved by more recent emphasis on the aesthetic component. The line between aesthetic and reconstructive surgery has become blurred and no longer can either of these two aspects of our specialty exist in isolation. Particularly in breast surgery each one requires the other for achieving exceptional results.

Although the expansion of increasingly complex techniques represents a challenge to plastic surgeons, maximising patients’ care in terms of safety and quality remains the centre of our efforts. This symposium will not only cover all the technical aspects in breast surgery but also highlighten patients’ safety considerations throughout the program.

I invite you to come and take part in this exciting and valuable event in Munich, a city famous for its wide range of cultural opportunities and to feel the romantic mood of the city during Christmas Season.

I look forward to seeing you here
